Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 14 March 2005.
2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 6, 9, 11-13 and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Oishi (2001/0047791). Oishi discloses An air induction body assembly for a vehicle, comprising: a carrier having a first sealing interface for a manifold and a second sealing interface for an engine cylinder; at least one air opening extending through said carrier, said at least one air opening for communicating air to the engine cylinder', and at least one valve mounted to said carrier, said at least one valve for controlling the communication of air through said at least one opening.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oishi (2001/0047791). Oishi discloses the claimed invention except having a ball bearing. It would have obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use a ball bearing in the invention of Oishi since it is well know in the art.

Regarding claim 8, Oishi discloses the claimed invention except the use of a sleeve bearing. It would have obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use a ball bearing in the invention of Oishi since it is well know in the art.

Claims 10, 14 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oishi (2001/0047791) in view of Lee et al (2003/0230285).

Regarding claim 10, Oishi discloses the claimed invention except the use of a second sealing interface. Lee et al. discloses the use of a second sealing interface. It would have obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the invention of Oishi to include a second sealing interface to improve sealing efficiency.

Regarding claim 14, Oishi discloses the claimed invention except the use of a wire embedded in the carrier. Lee et al. discloses the use of a wire embedded in the carrier. It would have obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the invention of Oishi to include a wire embedded in the carrier to improve efficiency of the system.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 21- 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 14, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's statement that the Examiner identified item number 11 in the Oishi reference as the carrier is inaccurate. The Examiner is considering the carrier as item number 2 in the Oishi reference. Also, the valve is mounted to the carrier. The dictionary definition of "mounted" means to attach, therefore, the valve of the manifold (11) is mounted to the carrier as stated in claim 1.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
